1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claim 11 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Kim et al (US PAT. NO. 5,905,843 hereinafter Kim).

Kim discloses a method for controlling a telephone controlled home appliance a system comprising: receiving ringing signals from a central office and modulating the received ringing signals into pulse signals; counting the number of the modulated pulse signals and setting at least one call signal line to an off-hook mode if the counted number of modulated pulse signals has reached a predetermined reference value; and receiving a call signal from a calling party via the central office when the call signal line is set to the off-hook mode and controlling at least one home appliance connected with the call signal line in response to the received call signal, see Fig. 2A, abstract, col. 1 lines 30-67 for example. Note that in Kim, the VCR reads on the claimed “at least one home appliance” and the premise telephone line connection reads on the claimed “at least one call signal line” since the one telephone line and one appliance is sufficient to met the “at least one” limitation.

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

5. Claim 12 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Kim in view of Batten, Jr. (US PAT. NO. 5,771,281 hereinafter Batten).

Kim differs from claim 12 in not disclosing counting the number of rings by counting the number of rising edges. However, it is old and well known in the art that a ringing signal is determined by determining the rising edges as part counting the ringing signal, for example see Batten col. 5 lines 44-57. Thus, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify Kim to count the number of rising edges to determine the number of ringing signals being received in order to control the appliance.

6. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

U.S. Pats. 4,538,031, 5,127,045, 3,783,193, 4,070,549.

7. Claims 1-10 are allowed.

8. Claims 13, 14 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
